If there can be such a thing as a "compact" version of the construction of a school building, the growth of its faculty, and the activities of its student body through a four-year period, we hope to have come close to it in this, the first picture-record of life at an excitingly new, progressively active, co-institutional high school.

This is our attempt at following the development of a bishop's dream . . . a bishop's command . . . a school—in the form of Cardinal Stritch High.

Because we feel this assemblage of photography and copy will mean the most to the student who can page through Existence and be able to recognize every page as a day in his life at Stritch, we have dedicated this first volume to the class of '65—the first graduating class—with the realization of the significance they hold. The first class to enter the doors of the school in 1961—impulsive—eager to do their part in building a school that they would be proud to call their alma mater, they have accomplished—accomplished in the sense of having completed their ideals of a secondary education, experienced the true meaning of forming friendship, and doing all of this with the realization that our endeavors, our seemingly remarkable progress, would have remained that nothingness of a beginning had we not been blessed with and guided by positive Christian principles, understanding our relationship with God—not through fear but love.

And so it began . . . an them . . .

And so it developed . . .

not for distant perfection . . .
for present prosperity . . .

And so it will remain and to expand . . .

And so it is . . . a school . . .
complete . . . and it took but

and this is how it happened:

Samuel Cardinal Stritch, for whom Toledo's sixth diocesan high school is named, labored as Toledo's second bishop during the years of 1921 to 1930. He went on to become the Archbishop of Milwaukee and then he served as the Archbishop of Chicago. He was elevated to the Roman Curia, appointed to head the Sacred Congregation for the Propagation of the Faith. The Cardinal died May 27, 1958, shortly after his appointment.

Build a high school, the bishop said

After Bishop Rehring broke the ground for the erection of the East Side high school, he extended felicitations to Father Michael Walz for his capable supervision during the building's construction. He prayed that the school's accomplishments would match the best in the area.

Mayor Erwin C. Hagedorn of Oregon declared the community's welcome at the ceremony. He expressed the thought that a gauge of a community's progress and status can be found in religion and education, combined in Stritch High School.

Congressman Ashley and County Commissioner Ned Skeldon were present as well as the principals of "neighboring schools." Also on hand for the ceremony were area pastors and official representatives of Catholic organizations.

Bishop George J. Rehring turns the first spadeful of earth to begin officially the construction of the new school. The groundbreaking ceremonies took place on Wednesday, September 21, 1960, in the presence of local public officials, educators.

And so he did . . .

On Sept. 21, 1960, ground was broken and John Naumann and Sons began work. Architects were Bellman, Gillett, and Richards. Split-level design was prompted by low lying character of land which needed more filling than digging.

A 20-acre site having been chosen for the area's first co-institutional high school and a completion date set for the fall of 1961, determined workers of John Naumann & Sons Construction Company began to erect the building that would eventually house some 800 students. Designed by architects Bellman, Gillett, & Richards, the school was to have four sections joined by parallel corridors.

In an attempt to open the doors of the building to the class of '65, the construction crew worked through harsh changes in weather. Though the first freshmen walked carefully to avoid disturbing the progress of workers as they put finishing touches on the school's interior, completion came early in the '61 school term.

The concrete shell roof of the chapel was designed by Navin Pandya, a native of Ahmedabad, India. The Stations were constructed by the art classes under the direction of Sr. Jane Mary and were erected in 1962.

The different stairways, the cafeteria, hallways, and the library are among the many familiar scenes in the three-level, modern high school. Cafeteria has a seating capacity of about 400 students, gym about 1700, and chapel about 300.

First term enrollment includes 200 students

As the construction workers put the finishing touches on the spacious structure, the first student body entered to meet their faculty which at the time numbered only eleven. The academic staff was composed of three diocesan priests, four Sylvania Franciscan Sisters, and four lay teachers—two men and two women.

Because there was no convent that first year, the four Sisters occupied one wing of the school making use of vacant class rooms for their living quarters.

Working with Monsignor Walz, Sister Mary Amata served as the assistant principal for the girls and Father Michael Ricker, assistant principal for the boys.

Principal elevated to rank of papal chamberlain in '64

The second year of Stritch operation saw the school expand rapidly. Both student and faculty enrollment increased by over 100 per cent. The curriculum began to take on a broader aspect as it was arranged to include sophomore subjects. New organizations were developed to attract the various interests of the students.

Two years of foundation having been solidly set, the faculty, students, and parents found it easier to progress. Together they celebrated their principal's appointment to the rank of papal chamberlain. Pope Paul VI bestowed the honor upon Monsignor Walz which was revealed in the January 10 issue of the Catholic Chronicle. They moved ahead, faculty initiating modern teaching methods, students taking a more active voice in the school government, and parents backing the Stritch activities. For them there is no longer a barrier of inexperience with which to cope. There is only a future of opportunity.

Father Michael Ricker, an assistant principal and one of the "pioneers," served in that position from 1961 to 1964 when he was appointed principal at Norwalk St. Paul where he had been assistant pastor.

Until Labor Day a typical scene brings no thought of school.

Yearly cycle goes from determination, then to frustration, and back again

Come September . . . school summons. Stop your surfing, dust off your books, and report. All too soon the summer ends.

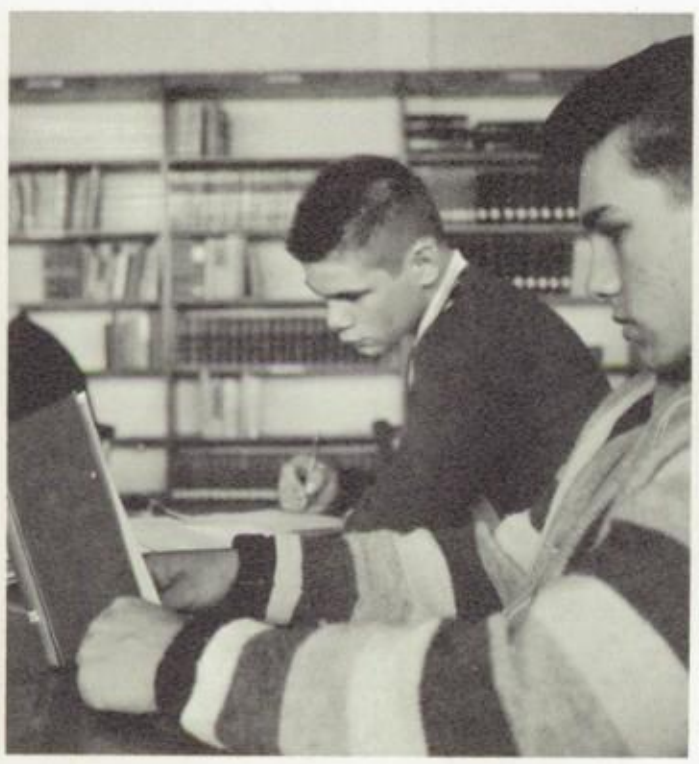
But the reunion of friends and the freshness of new, challenging subjects combined with the hope of winning athletic seasons soon moves to the foremost position in the life of the Stritch student, in his life at a new and determined high school.

The "grind," old to some, new to others, brings mixed reactions.

Freshmen tackle problems of grammar in beloved English class.

Though in direct contrast with opposite page, scenes like this still brought no thought of school. "No school," said the radio.

Sometimes a student can begin with determination.



And sometimes a student can just about cope with the problems at hand.

Maybe even sometimes a student can just decide to give up for a while.

And then comes the determination to try one more time. And so it goes.

Discussion in history leads to better thought and comprehension.

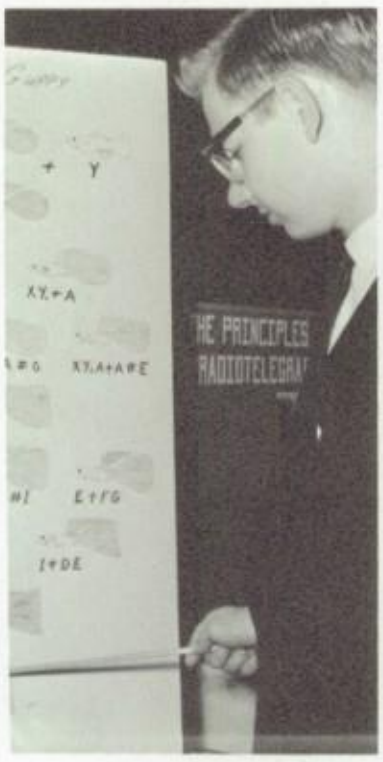
Classes, projects, and activities are packed into six school hours



A change in classes leads to many surprises throughout day: a chemistry experiment, a look at a prize winning biology display, close-up looks at war materials, Latin projects, or registration and voting in mock election.

Assemblies at Stritch are called for many reasons: athletic events; Christmas, complete with a tree and gifts; the study of outer space; musical programs; foreign language programs; previews of the students' spring production; and even to show appreciation for the faculty.

Below and at right are pictures of people and attractions at first Harvest Festival in October, 1964. Plans were begun in previous March by Stritch adult organizations which desired to help school meet operational expenses. In charge was Fr. Joseph Pastorek, pastor of Sts. Cyril & Methodius, assisted by his brothers Anthony and Paul. Profits reached about $25,000.

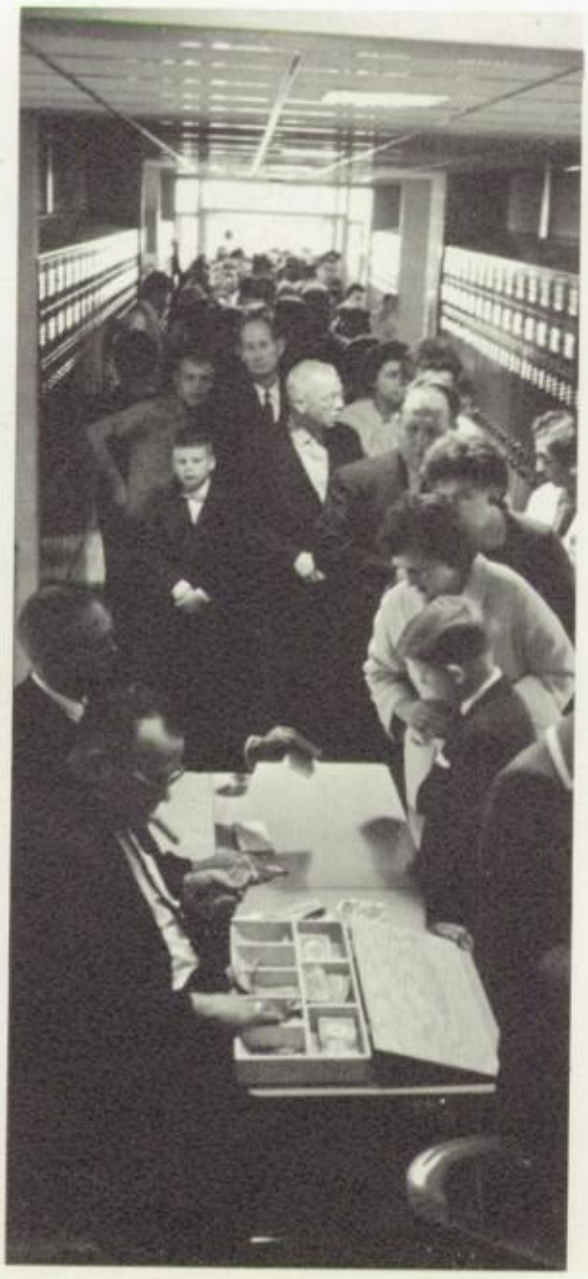
Intense concentration heightens the suspense.

Assemblies are an important part of the school year. Students themselves plan many programs such as the surprise appreciation assembly for their "All American" teachers.

In carnival atmosphere, Stritch presented its first harvest festival. Organized through the cooperation of the parishes, the fall event entertained crowds for three days.

Varied assembly schedule offered at school; first Harvest Festival is week-end success

Various attractions at the week-end festival included train rides; the big tent, packed with booths of chance; home-made chicken paprikash in the school cafeteria; and the ever-popular clown with balloons. Event was held on school parking lot.



Watching the fightin' Cards in breathtaking action, following the man with the ball, and letting the world know you are quite happy about it—all add up to football at Cardinal Stritch.

So what was all the yelling for?

Three years we cheered—underdogs?—we were—opposing teams twice our size?—right—but we cheered. We backed our teams with everything we had because we knew the inevitable "big year" was ahead. Our teams had desire unlimited from the very beginning. We knew they would be physically built when the '64 season began. Tempered by previous defeats they would take to the gridiron, the court, and the mats with a fury of readiness that would enable them to fight victoriously for our mighty red and black.

The '64 year did come. They did win—they won with the satisfaction of a team who had said, "We'll get you back"—and succeeded in doing so. And we cheered.

Spirit is standing in the freezing wind and burning up with enthusiasm. It's pushing through a crowd of hundreds to get a front row seat. Spirit is traveling fifty-five miles to see your team play and spirit is what breaks your heart when they walk off the field defeated by two points. It's that funny feeling that possesses you every time you hear the Cardinal fight song. Spirit is bragging about your football team before the season even begins. It's buying your ticket six days ahead to be sure that they don't run out. Spirit is sitting up half the night to make a sign that says "Go Mighty Cardinals."

Color Day ends with coronation

Color Day '64 was celebrated by the enthusiastic student body as they decorated their home rooms for the annual competition.

Color Day also meant the coronation of the first Stritch Football Queen. The senior football players nominated twelve girls for the Queen candidacy and the entire senior class voted for the five finalists.

The identity of the Queen, a closely guarded secret, was revealed at half time of the game. Five Varsity "S" Club members escorted the Queen and court at the ceremonies.

A dance, "Royalty in Red," was held after the victorious game.

"Check Your Worries" presented in 1964 as the school's first musical production

As the curtain went up on "Check Your Worries," Stritch's first annual spring production, the student cast found themselves playing to capacity crowds. The three-act musical, held in the school auditorium, depicted life in Hartsville, a small town in Idaho.

Under the capable direction of Miss Mary Ann Sadler, the show was presented to the public four times. The Stritch orchestra conducted by Mr. Gerard Lonsway played the score of the production.

Try-outs for the play were conducted in January, four months before the play was to be presented. Leading players chosen were Paulette Breen, Jim Drake, Mike Barry, and Elaine Walker. The entire cast practiced night after night determined to make their first attempt at acting a successful one. Their preparedness was evident as they smoothly presented the sell-out show April 2, 3, and 4, 1964.

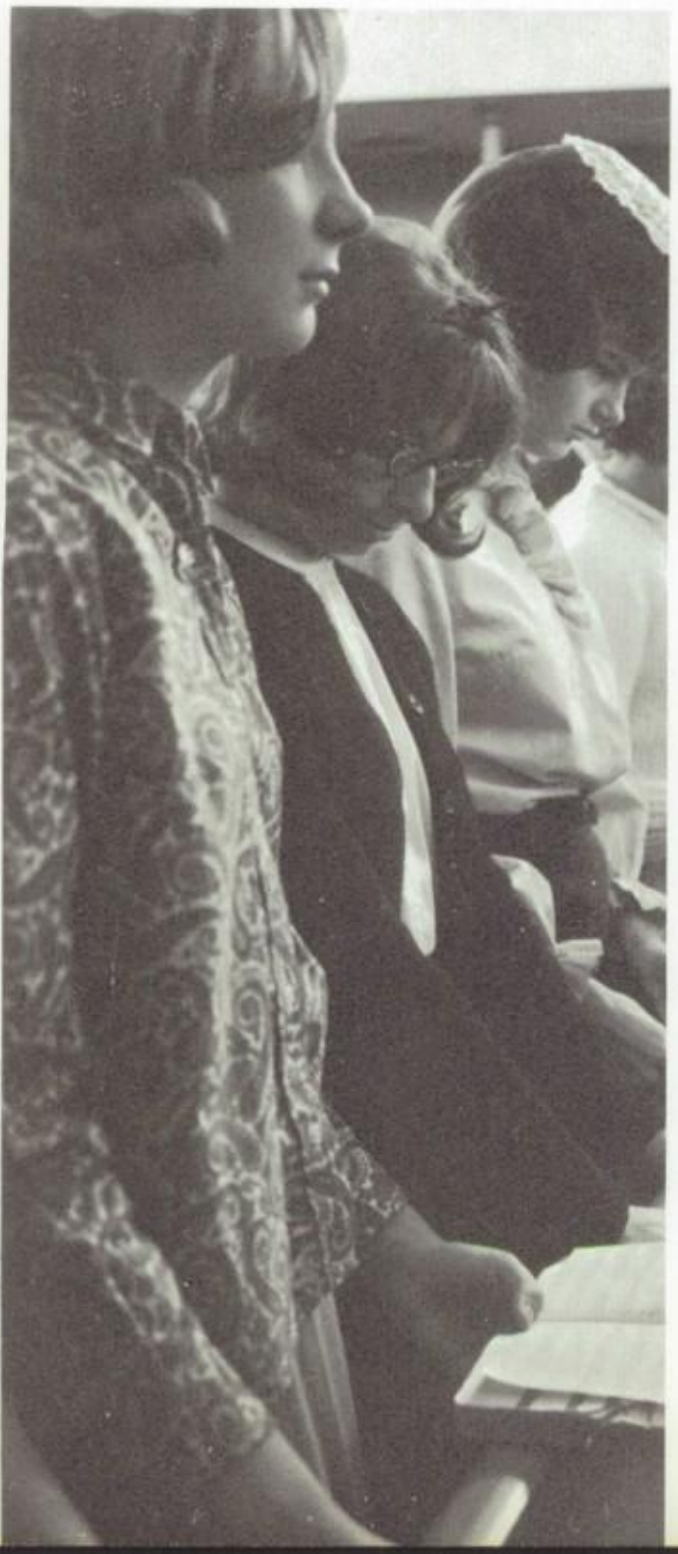
Weekly Masses are attended with liturgical participation

Religious activities center on Mass, retreat, May ceremony

Each student is provided with own hymn booklet.



Besides the subject of religion, weekly Mass is said in the school chapel for the benefit of students and faculty. The pupils' participation in the Mass was greatly developed during the '65 school term.

Once a year, during the month of May, the students take part in a procession and the celebration of Mass in honor of the Blessed Virgin.

Students also enjoy the enlightenment of an annual retreat conducted as only the experienced can. Leaders of the '65 retreat were Father Karl Chesher and Father Warren Welsh.

And so that's how it was here at Stritch

The fact that they never had any upperclassmen to follow did not hamper the Class of '65 activity-wise. Though the students had to work constantly to organize themselves into a working unit, they soon were able to independently and capably arrange projects. The class successfully prepared the first junior prom in the spring of 1964.

In order to publicize the new school's achievements, the students sponsored "Talk Up Stritch" week with the assistance of WOHO Radio.

Besides the whirlwind of school activities, some of the students were active in other outside interests such as Paulette Breen, Miss American Teenager of 1964.

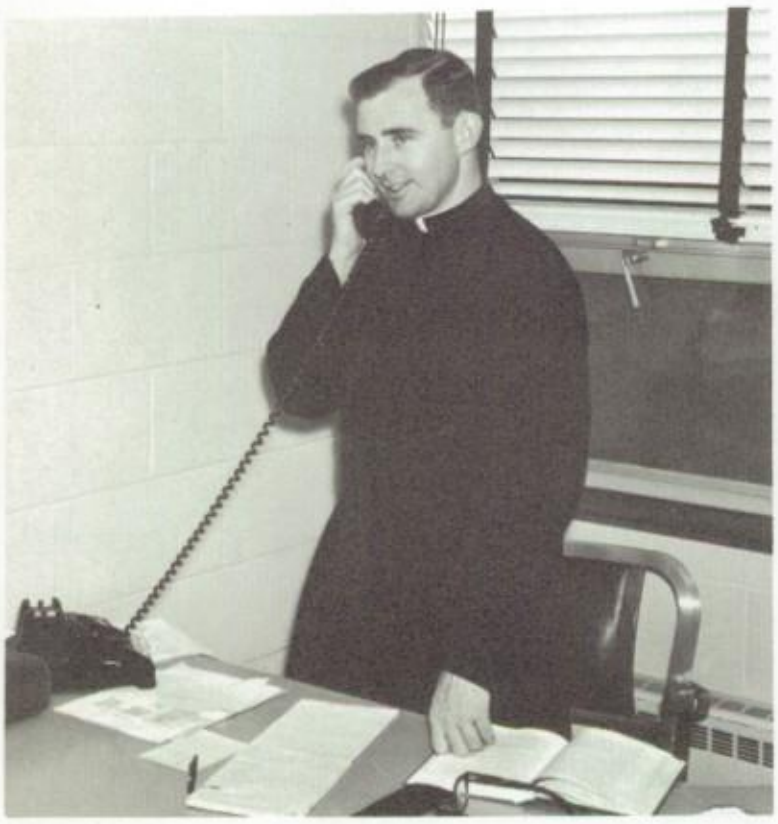
ADMINISTRATION

In Fourth Year, School Administration Mirrors Growth of Co-institutional School

Sister Mary Amata, one of school's "pioneers," has been an assistant principal and science teacher here since 1961.



In his first year as assistant principal, Father James Auth teaches religion, moderates Servers-Readers Club.

The varied personalities and achievements of the Cardinal Stritch faculty are little known to the students. Their interests range from pizza to the theater and their alma maters from the local University of Toledo to the Gregorian University in Rome. Their reasons for entering the teaching profession are as divergent as their personalities.

Monsignor Walz, who attended Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, Norwood, Ohio, has the B.A. and M.S.E. degrees. He takes "great satisfaction in seeing how many teachers, pupils, parents, and parishes pull together for Stritch."

DeSales College and the University of Detroit are the alma maters of Sister M. Amata. Sister has a B.A. in Science and an M.A. in education. Musically inclined, she plays the piano and organ.

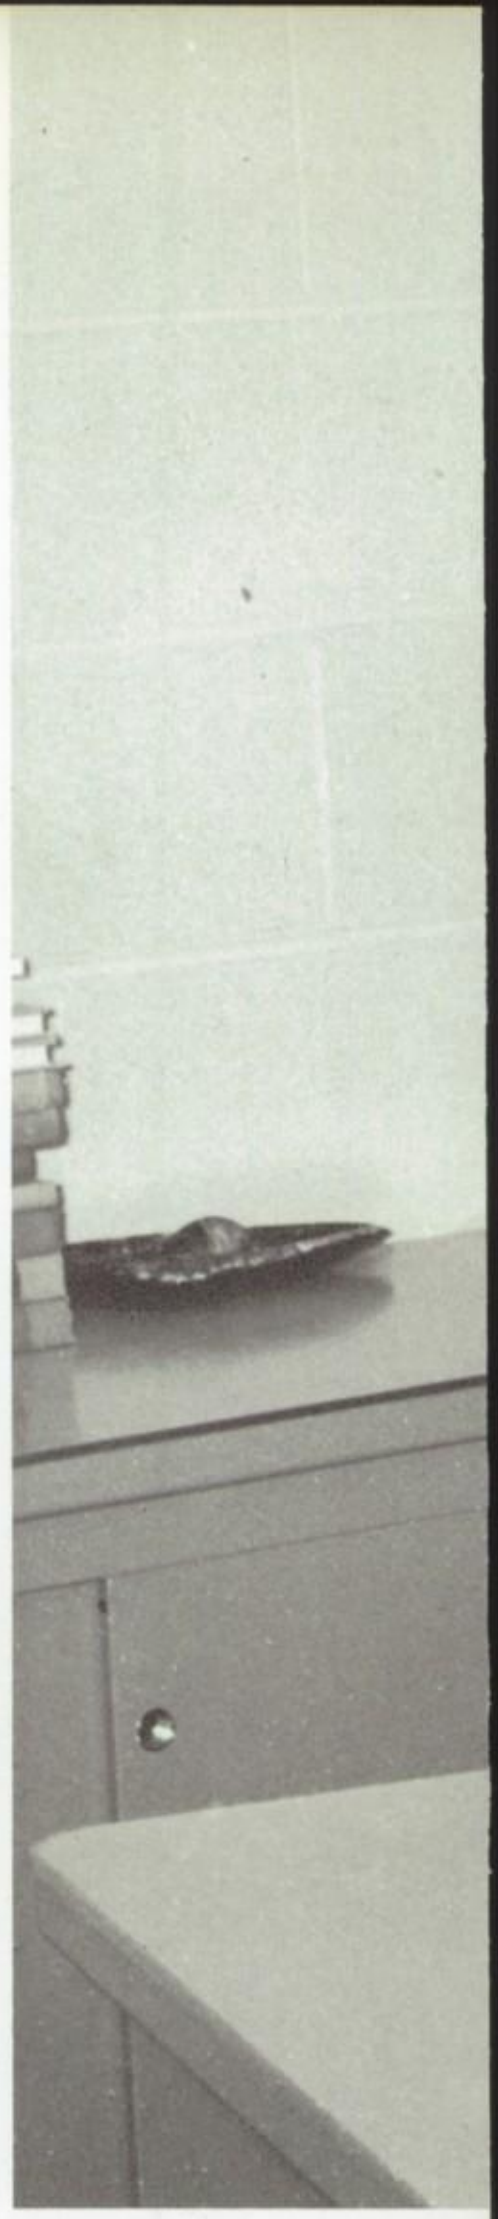
A ski enthusiast, Father James Auth has attended St. Gregory Seminary, Cincinnati, the Gregorian University, Rome, and the North American College.

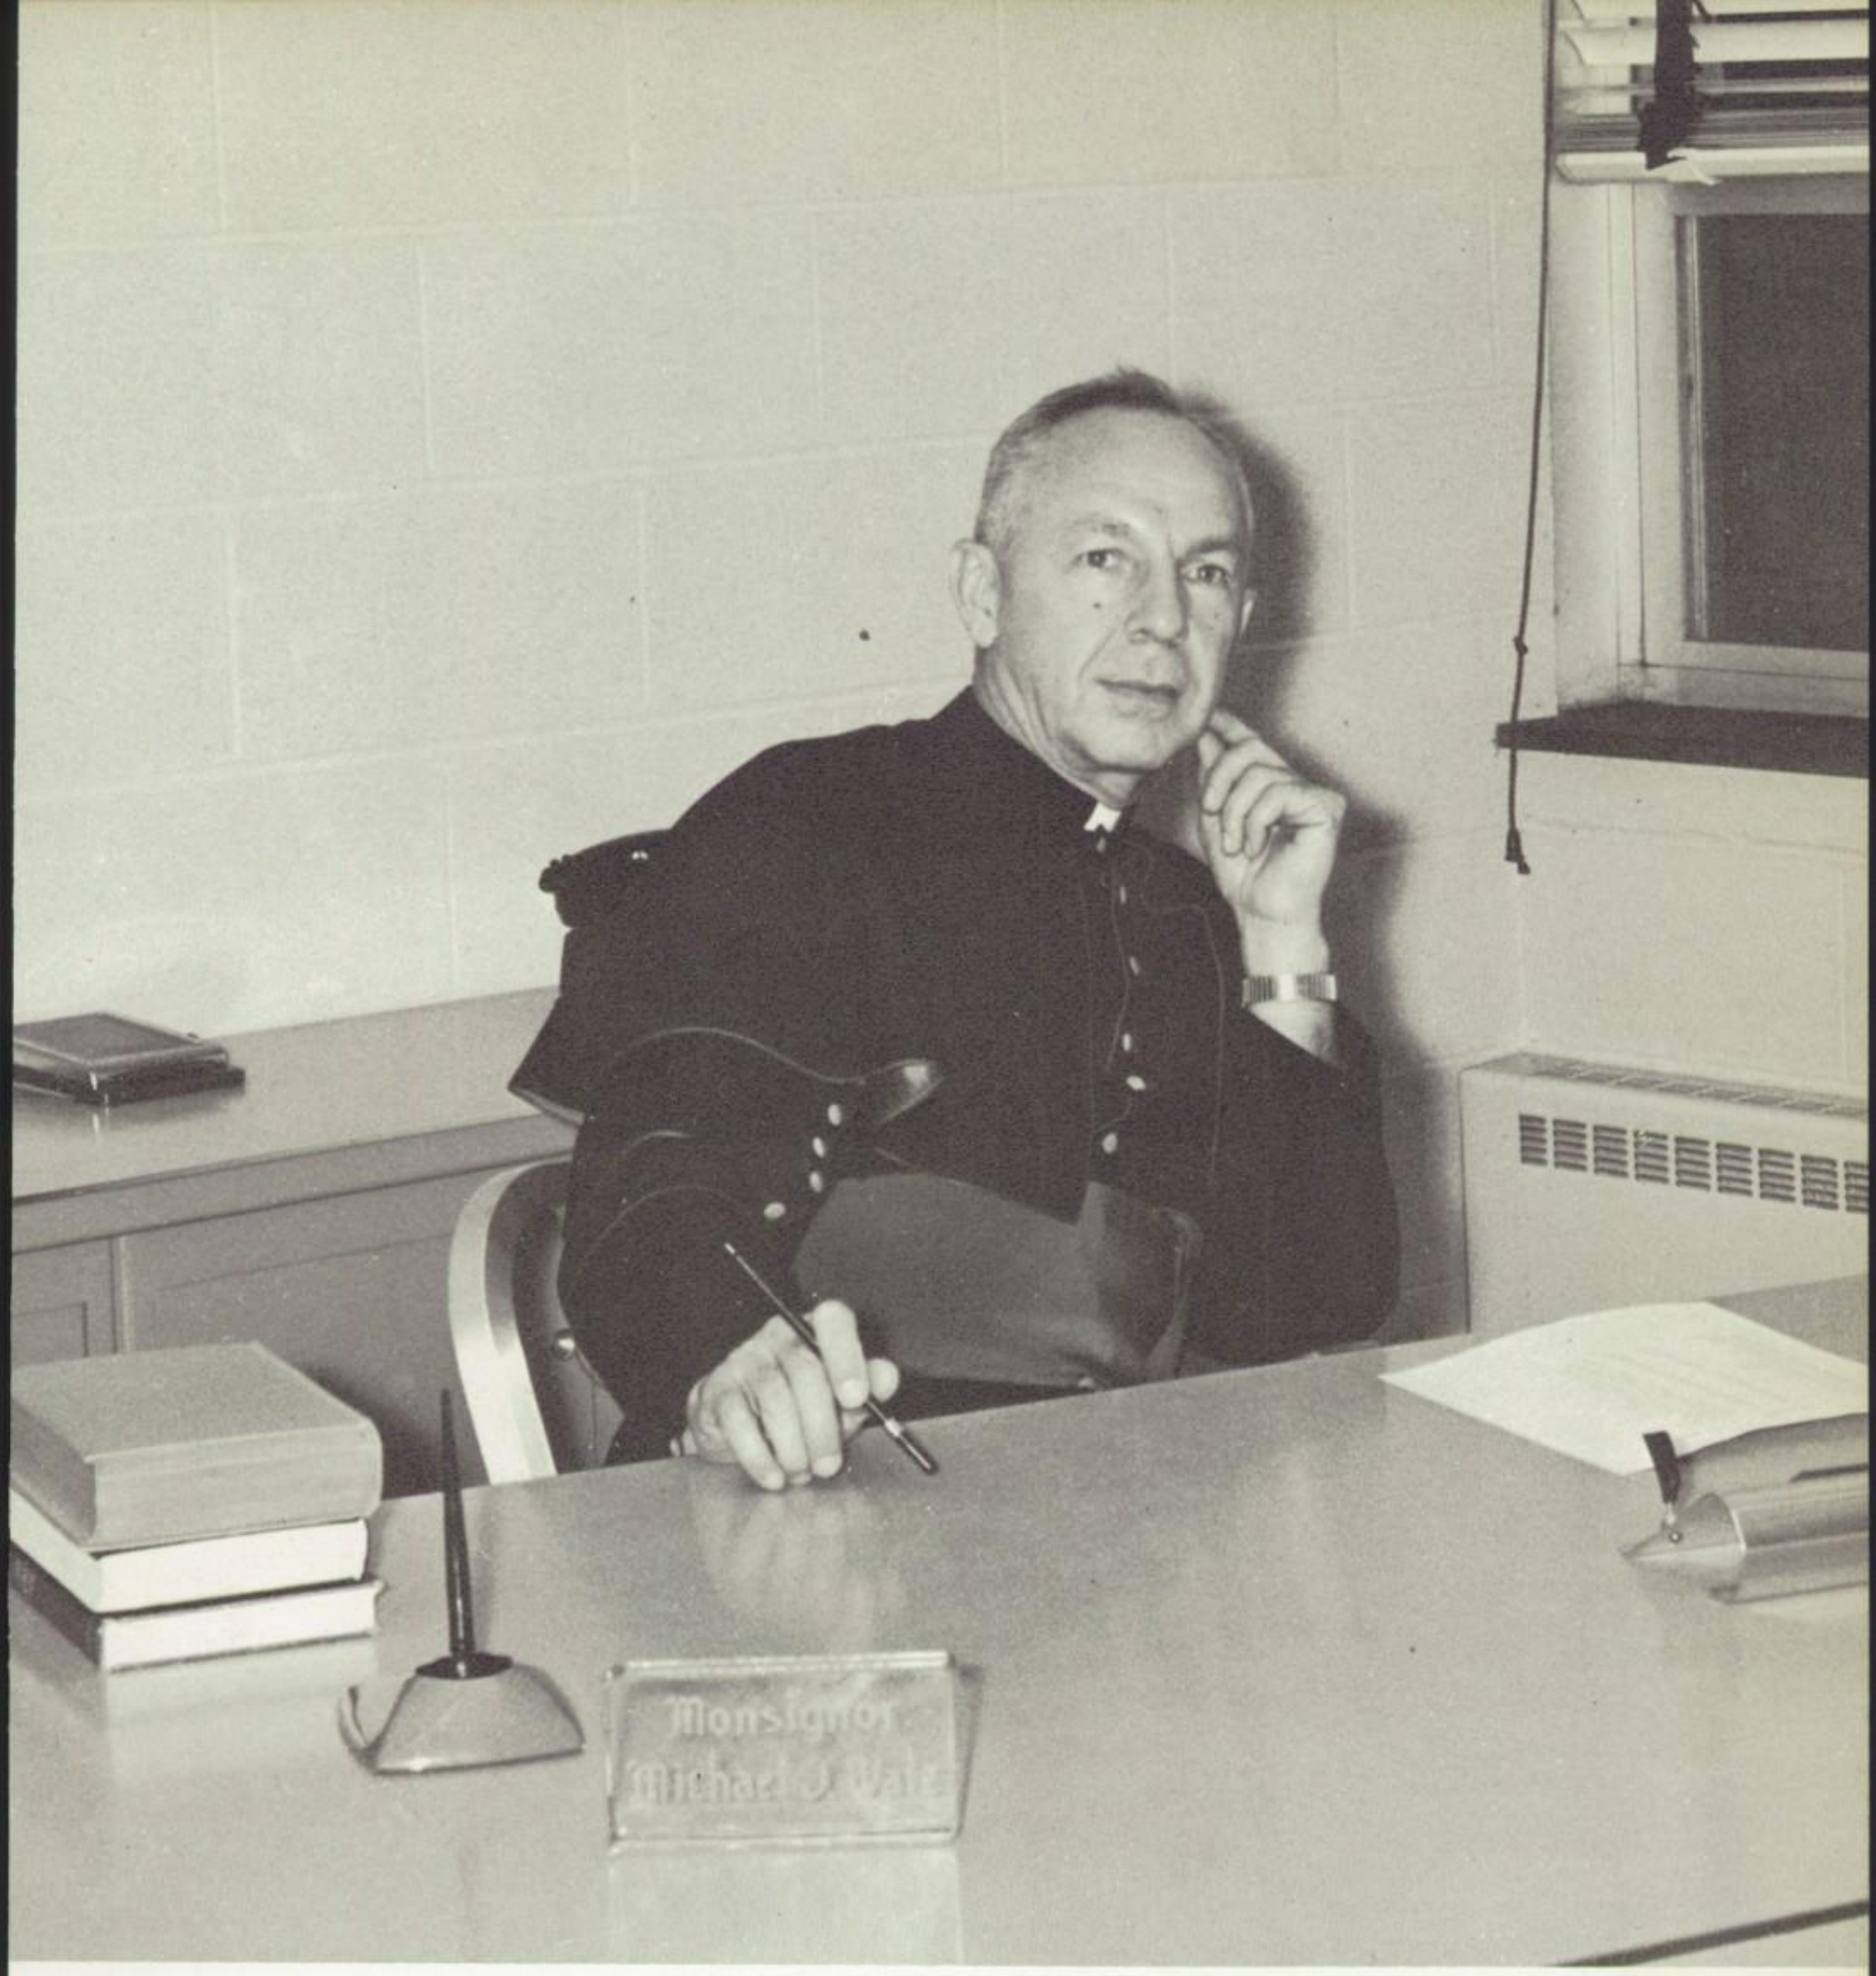
Sister Jeanne Marie holds a B.A. and hopes to get her M.A. this summer. A graduate of Notre Dame University, she became a teacher because she enjoys working with young people. Her hobbies include printing, music, and chess.

Miss Julie Harshman, B.A., attended Central Catholic High and Marquette University. She enjoys knitting and reading for relaxation. Miss Mary Ann Sadler, B.A., has the unusual and interesting hobby of "collecting people and ideas."

Father Robert Armstrong experienced his first year of teaching at Stritch this year. He has a B.A. in Education. In his free time Father likes to go skiing.

With a B.A. in Latin and a minor in English and social studies, Sister M. Venard gets much satisfaction training young people for their future as good citizens and Christians.





A high quality of performance in his music classes is the aim of Mr. Gerard Lonsway, B.A., M.A. Mr. Lonsway enjoys almost any subjects concerning music. Mr. James Kwiatkowski, B.A., majored in Spanish and English at the University of Toledo. He was editor of the college yearbook, Blockhouse, which won a first class award. Sister Jane Mary, B.A., M.A., seeks to cultivate imagination, originality, and freedom of expression in every student through the art classes she conducts.

▲ Monsignor Michael J. Walz serves as principal of the first diocesan co-institutional high school; given title of "monsignor" in 1964. Professional know-how and organizational ability are result of postgraduate studies at Fordham and Columbia, administrative work at Fostoria St. Wendelin, Toledo Central Catholic.

An enthusiastic and determined addition to the English department, Sister Mary Avita teaches sophomores and seniors.

Counseling problems are handled by Mr. Martin Vieth, at the left, who is also school's head football coach, and Mr. John Mescher.

Phys ed program is directed by Mr. James Kubacki, the athletic director and head basketball coach, and by Miss Jeanine Sheibley.

Father Omer Rethinger, religion, Sister Mary Bede, mathematics and attendance office, and Sister Francis Bernadone, religion and business education, discuss student attendance.

Teachers Gain Academic Honors

Reading, music, and needlework are Sister Mary Blanche's pastimes. Sister received her Bachelor of Science degree in Education at the University of Detroit.

Golfing, knitting, and reading occupy the leisure time of Miss Mary Swartzlander, graduate of Bowling Green State University.

To instruct, guide, and prepare students for adulthood is the aim of Sister M. Victoriana, graduate of Mary Manse College, the University of Detroit, and Detroit Commercial College.

Helping students in their great experience of learning, Father John Nowak thoroughly enjoys his job at Stritch. Father collects records as a hobby.

Presenting her students with a solid background for college or their future careers is the aim of Sister M. Germaine.

Mr. Patrick Reilly, history, and Mr. Ronald Zak, business law and government, check latest sports results.

Science instructors Sister Edward Marie, biology and physiology, and Sister Mary Inez, general science and Spanish, work on "instant" Christmas trees.

Many Earn Advanced Degree

A graduate of Bowling Green State University, Mr. Kenneth Gross entered the teaching profession because he believes that the future of man is formed in the classroom.

Head football coach of the Mighty Cardinals, Mr. Martin Vieth is also one of Stritch's guidance counselors. Mr. Vieth finds relaxation in the game of golf.

With St. John's College as his alma mater, Mr. John Mescher serves the students with his talent for the field of counseling.

Mr. James Kubacki received his B.S. degree at the University of Nebraska. Seeing boys and girls progress and develop is his great satisfaction.

Miss Jeanine Sheibley enjoys golf, bowling, and water skiing. A graduate of Mary Manse College, she holds a Bachelor of Arts Degree.

Father Richard Notter, religion teacher, and Sister Mary Aloise, mathematics, are pictured outside school's chapel after the regularly scheduled Wednesday Mass for students.

Office, Maintenance, Cafeteria Staffs Provide A–1 Care

Sister M. Howard Ann re-creates the culture of the ancient world for the students of her history classes. As an avid reader, Sister obtains many interesting facts for her pupils.

The librarian, Sister M. St. Anne, takes pleasure in selecting and purchasing new books for the school library. One of Sister's hidden talents is her knack for writing poetry.

Other newcomers on the faculty are Sister M. Avita, who teaches English; Sister Louis de Montfort, who teaches physical science and physics; and Sister Peter Canisius, who teaches mathematics.

Mr. Patrick Reilly joined the Stritch faculty this year. A TU graduate, he teaches history and coaches wrestling and football.

A graduate of Notre Dame University with a B.A. degree, Mr. Ronald Zak enjoys water skiing and entered teaching because of a "profound, sincere interest in young people."

Sister M. Inez has inaugurated the Spanish assembly which has become an annual Stritch festivity.

Sister Edward Marie, who obtained her B.A. and did post-graduate work at the University of Toledo, has always been interested in sciences, biology in particular.

Crossword puzzles, music, and piano are the hobbies of Sister M. Bede, math teacher. Her degrees are a B.S.E., M.S., and Ed. M.

Sister Francis Bernadone enjoys listening to good music. She obtained her B.S.E. at the University of Detroit and is working toward her M.A. at Bowling Green State University.

Father Rethinger is a graduate of St. Gregory's and Mt. St. Mary's Seminaries, and has a Bachelor of Arts degree.

Fr. Richard Notter, a graduate of Pontifical College Josephinum, enjoys hunting, swimming, skiing—the outdoors in general—almost as much as he enjoys teaching religion.

Sister Aloise earned her Bachelor of Science in Education degree at the University of Detroit. Sister enjoys her profession but unwinds after a day's work with crossword puzzles.

Shooting, fishing, and most outdoor activities are the interesting pasttimes of Mr. Max Fries, B.A. Mr. Fries began his studies in engineering only to discover his true field was teaching.

Poetry, guitar-playing, and tennis captivate Mr. Harold Jenks, Jr. A graduate of St. Francis de Sales High School and of John Carroll University, he holds a B.A. degree.

Sister M. Alcuin, B.A., M.A., has attended the College of St. Theresa and Ball State Teachers College. She believes that teaching is the only profession in which you can challenge the minds of teen-agers.

The Voice of the Students

Student Council

The Student Council functions year round with the thought of bettering faculty-student relations. Members focus their intents on the students' interests. They attempt to maintain a steady flow of activities without interfering with study schedules.

They sponsor all of the post-game sock hops and many of the other dances that take place during the year. These dances are the main source of income as they are popular with the majority of students.

The council also conducts most of the Stritch assemblies as well as organizing special "days" during the year such as Color Day and Tag Day.

The Student Council, especially active in the Toledo Area Student Council, won, in its first year in this organization, the T.A.S.C. Sportsmanship Award.

Essence, the school paper, had its beginning in December of 1963 due to the efforts of Sister Mary Germaine. The staff was then composed of some of the top students in the junior English classes. Volume I numbered five issues. The co-editors were Bob Wilhelm and Linda Stearns.

The name Essence was selected as a title by a vote of the paper staff. The attraction of its meaning, "significance, substance, importance," proved the deciding factor in an almost unanimous vote.

According to an article in the first issue by Monsignor Walz, principal, "Essence is that which makes a thing what it is. Without essence, nothing can exist. So will it be with Essence."

Volume II was published eight times in 1964–1965. Journalism classes now make up the staff.

Existence—'64–'65

Linda Stearns, Editor-in-Chief

The 1964–1965 Existence staff will be remembered for presenting Cardinal Stritch High School with its first yearbook. The students were chosen from the seventh and eighth period journalism classes.

The yearbook subscriptions sold were surprisingly numerous, indicating the school's high expectations for the publication. With this in mind, the staff, with its advisers, Mr. James Kwiatkowski and Miss Julie Harshman, set out to produce an accurate and colorful record of existence at Cardinal Stritch. The confusion and chaos of beginning from seemingly nowhere, and the responsibility of filling so many pages in so little time appeared to be the staff's unsolvable situation. Only the anticipation of seeing the first Existence complete—printed, bound, and distributed—kept alive the spirit of the weary students responsible for such a pressing job. Resisting desires to give up, they worked until the final deadline was met.

Marching Band, Twirlers

Mr. Lonsway, Director

The Cardinal Stritch Band, organized in 1962, has been a credit to Stritch High. Mr. Gerard E. Lonsway directs the band which includes sixty-two fine musicians, eight of which are seniors, and twelve talented twirlers. Drum major, Dave Perry, demonstrated his ability to lead the band with many successful performances. At football half-times he led the band on and off the field. He was also the student director of the band in Mr. Lonsway's absence.

The more advanced music students made up the stage band for Check Your Worries, the school's first production.

For the past two years, the band has marched in the downtown Christmas parade, the first year leading the parade, and the second year leading Santa.

Band members have rated very high in Bowling Green competition presenting solos and ensembles. Some of the award winners performed at the band's public assembly.

Besides marching for the football games, a small pep band added spark and enthusiasm to many of the basketball games. The band has also provided music for all assemblies and other student events throughout the year.

Comparable to their excellence in performance are the band's new, eye-catching uniforms of red and black which serve as both marching and concert apparel.

Varsity "S" Club

At Cardinal Stritch High School there is an elite group of individuals who draw the respect and admiration of all who are not among their ranks—they are the members of the Varsity "S." Due to their athletic prowess and ability to show the same qualities in classes, they have earned the universally coveted varsity letter. During the year the Varsity "S" sponsored the lettermen's dance, provided official escorts for Stritch's first Football Queen and her court, and also sold programs at the football games.

Mr. James Kubacki, head basketball coach and athletic director, is the moderator of this club. Officers are John Caputo, president; Bob Molnar, vice-president; Dave McDaniel, secretary and Fred Ivan, treasurer.

Pep Club

Another new club was added this year, the Pep Club. The purpose was to create more school spirit in the student body. The enthusiastic members of the Pep Club worked many hours making posters to hang in the corridors. "Fight" and "Eat 'Em Up" slogans were responsible for a more enthusiastic atmosphere for the football and basketball games. Talented students put on skits during some of the pep rallies. The Pep Club occasionally rented buses and traveled to cheer the team on at opponents' fields and courts. Membership is open to anyone who is sincerely interested in promoting athletics at Stritch and who can maintain at least a 75 scholastic average. The moderators, Miss Julie Harshman and Mr. James Kubacki, are always ready to lend a helping hand whenever needed.

Enthusiastic Cheerleaders

The varsity cheerleaders, under the direction of Mr. James Kubacki, endeavor to maintain pep and enthusiastic school spirit during the football and basketball seasons. The first cheerleaders were chosen in 1962 for the new reserve teams. Since then, they are chosen each spring by a committee composed of faculty members, and must keep a scholastic average of C. The six reserve cheerleaders look to the varsity for any cheering problems coming up. As honorary members of the Pep Club, the varsity and reserve cheerleaders plan pep rallies and skits presented to the student body.

Since before the time of Socrates, dramatics has been considered a sign of culture and education. The duty of the Drama Club is to promote and encourage this source of personal expression among the students of Cardinal Stritch. In its first year of existence, with the guidance of their moderator–director Miss Mary Ann Sadler, Masquers took its first tremendous step forward with the first musical, Check Your Worries. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors participate in the Spring Production, dances, and "program-like" meetings.

Science Club

Any student enrolled in a science course is eligible to join the Cardinal Stritch chapter of the Science Clubs of America. The club, which was organized last year, has a present membership of 52. The purpose of the club is to stimulate an interest in the sciences and to determine what field of science a member would best be adapted to specialize in if he so desires. The enthusiastic members have their meetings once a month. Under the guidance of their moderator, Sr. Alcuin, members visit parks and industries for a better understanding of our world.

The neat and orderly appearance of the library can be credited to the library assistants who devote their free time to checking books in and out and by keeping the library neat by straightening shelves. CLASSES

SENIORS '65

This is the extraordinary Class of '65—the group of students that will forever be remembered as the first to enroll and the first to graduate from Cardinal Stritch.

As freshmen, they immediately stepped into the offices of leadership. They worked amazingly fast and articulately well to change the beautiful, but hollow, building into their own spirited and well-rounded school. They were responsible for forming the school's image and they alone hold the pride of having created and developed the many student organizations.

As the senior year drew to a climax, the students cleaned out their lockers for the last time, walked the halls a little slower, appreciating the beauty of the school as never before, and took time from their hurried schedules to be a little kinder to all those who pulled together for four years to build so quickly the biggest little school in the world.

President of the Senior Class, Tom Urbanski, also serves as student disc jockey.

Bob Wilhelm, Senior Class Treasurer, reports through public address system.

Barb Dobron, Senior Class Secretary, ponders over the snow covered scenery.

Senior boys' Sec.—Treas., Mike Swemba, puts "Mighty Cardinal" decal on car.

JUNIORS '66

The junior year is a turning point in the life of every Stritch student. It brings with it the thrill of receiving the coveted class ring, the excitement of a first prom, and the pride of being considered an upperclassman. To the ambitious athlete it means his first chance at earning a varsity letter.

The responsibility of planning for the future becomes a more vivid reality.

The class of '66 will soon become the major officers of Cardinal Stritch. For the first time in the school's history, the leadership of the student body will be entrusted to the hands of people other than the class of '65. With this responsibility comes the challenge of not only continuing the present pace of remarkable Stritch spirit and cooperation, but also that of developing new and even stronger convictions for their student body to follow.

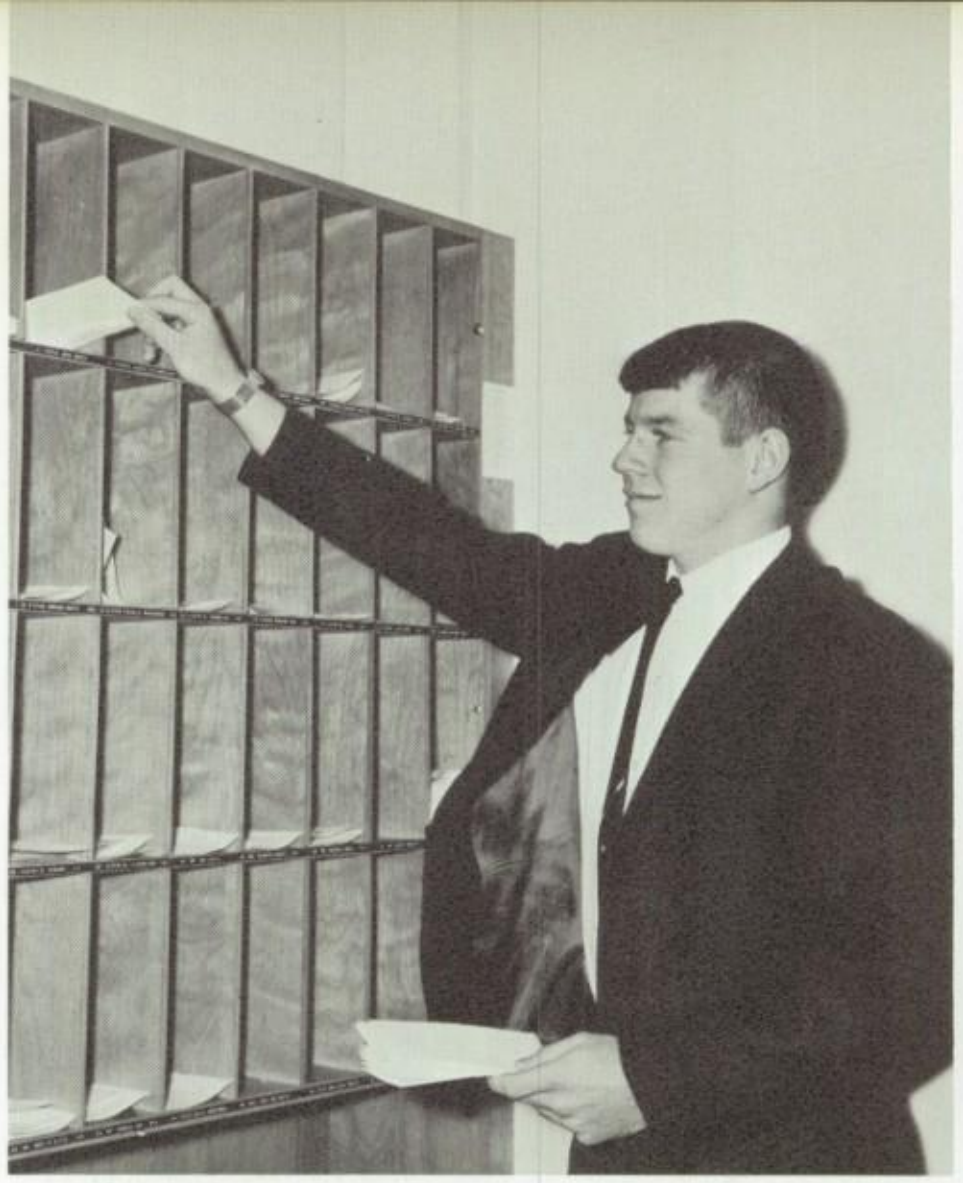
SOPHOMORES '67

As sophomores, the students realize a feeling of self-assurance for the first time. They know the ropes and are anxious to set their own class traditions. Happy that they are no longer the youngest of the student body, they begin to develop socially, participating in the whirl of extracurricular activities.

They are hit hard by the forces of geometry and second-year Latin, but they know now the necessity of sacrifice to achieve success. They face challenges with the fresh and spirited approach characteristic of youth of all ages.

In their statement of policy, the Class of '67 pledged to make patience, leadership, and perseverance their password and their key to success. Determined to be leaders as well as enthusiastic followers, they stated that they would strive to enkindle in every sophomore a spark of originality.



Pres. of the Sophomore Class, Dan Tscherne, sees that an invitation for the coming all-school dance is placed in every teacher's mailbox.

FRESHMEN '68

With the entrance of the class of '68, Stritch became for the first time a completed four-class school.

In the tradition of high school freshmen everywhere, the class came to Stritch filled with the enthusiasm of school spirit, anxious to be a part of high school life. Fearful of the pressures of secondary subjects, but grade conscious enough to persevere, they adjusted to the routine of classes quickly.

Under the leadership of Sandra Faykosh and John Dusseau, presidents of the freshman class, the students became very much a part of the determined student body and contributed significantly to the academic, athletic, and other extracurricular activities of the school.

SPORTS

MR. KUBACKI HEADS FIRST CS ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

In 1961, Mr. James Kubacki became the first coach at Cardinal Stritch. He installed a five-sport program, including football, basketball, wrestling, track, and baseball. That year, Mr. Charles Buckenmyer assisted Mr. Kubacki with the coaching of football, but the four remaining sports were coached solely by Mr. Kubacki.

When the first freshmen became sophomores, Mr. Martin Vieth took the position of head football and track coach. Mr. Vieth, a Notre Dame graduate, also assisted Mr. Kubacki in coaching basketball.

Mr. William Romstadt became head wrestling coach in '62. He attended Findlay College, where he lettered in football. Mr. Romstadt also assisted in coaching football and track.

Mr. Ronald Zak joined the Stritch coaching staff in '63. He took the position of freshman grid and cage coach. He also assists Mr. Vieth with the varsity football and track teams.

When Mr. Romstadt took a coaching job at Delta, Ohio, in '64, he was replaced by Mr. Patrick Reilly, a TU alumnus, as wrestling coach. Mr. Reilly also assists in football.

Mr. Kubacki now centers his interest on basketball and baseball, but he continues to assist with the football team. Mr. Kubacki, former cager at the University of Nebraska, uses his knowledge of the sport to guide the Cards.

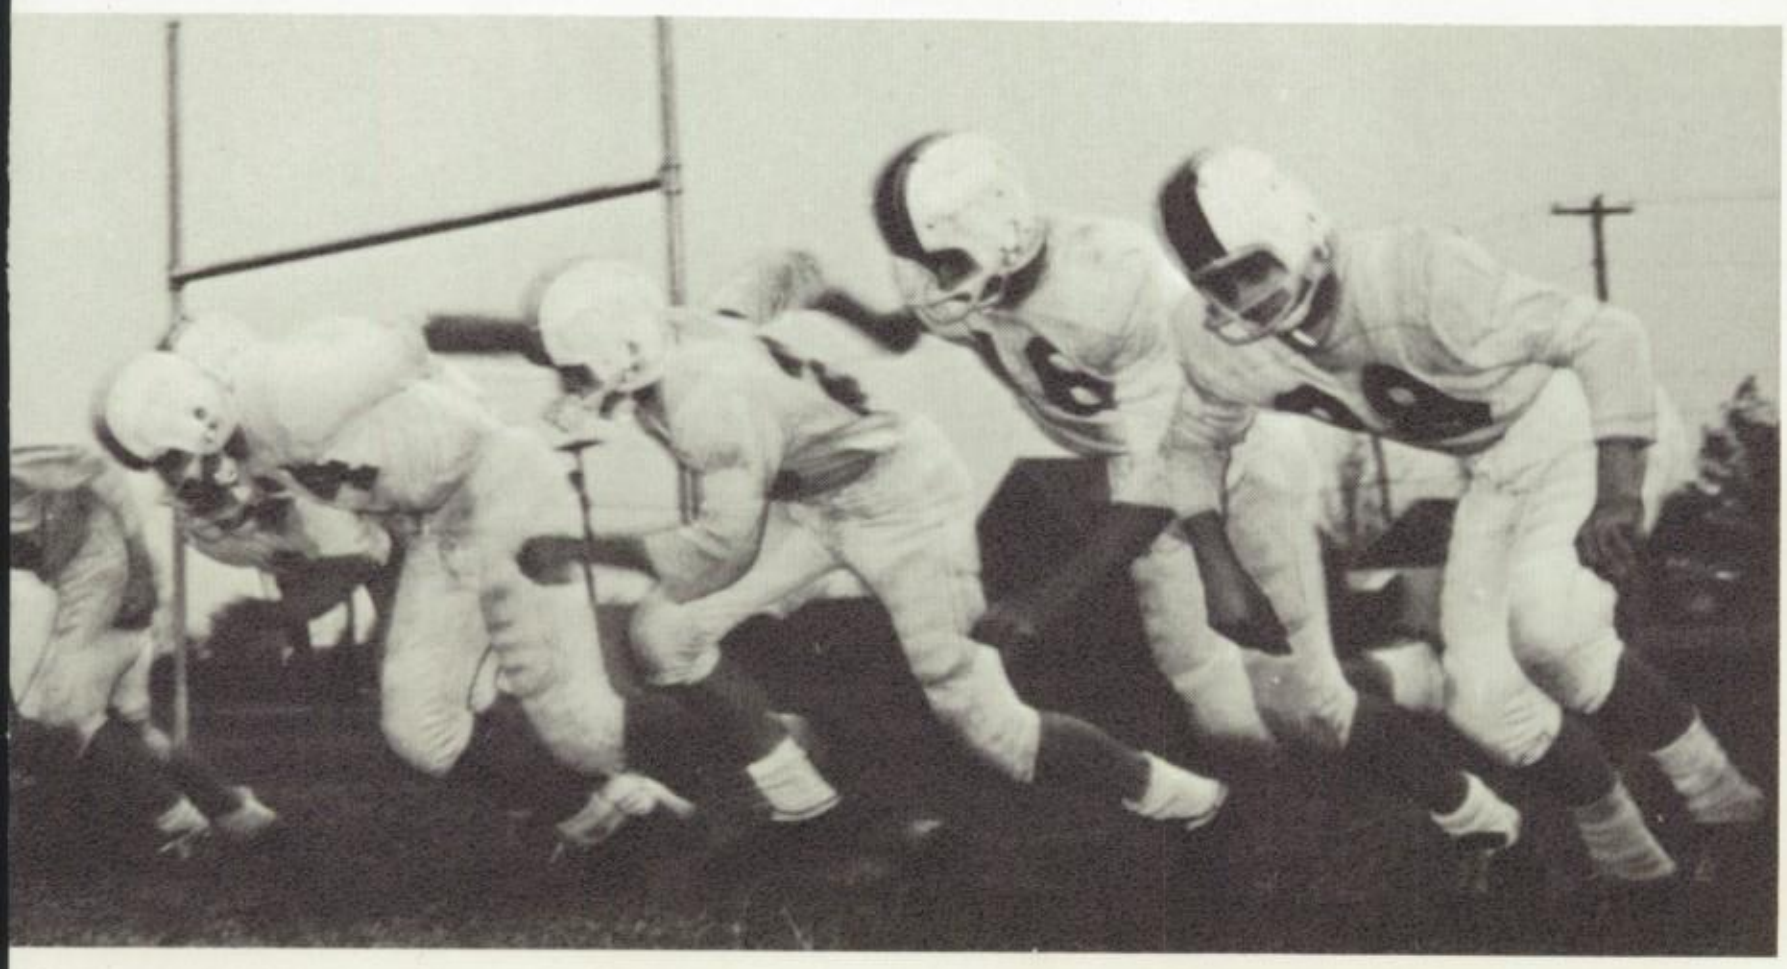
WINNING VARSITY RECORD



'64 VARSITY GRADUATES TWENTY SENIORS; SENIOR FULLBACK DON THOMAS NAMED MVP

With the close of the 1964-65 football season, twenty senior gridders were awarded varsity honors. Special team honors were given to halfback, Don Thomas, who was named Most Valuable Player; to tackle, Dave McDaniel, Best Offensive Player; and to Denny Keran, Outstanding Defensive Player.

State recognition was given to both Thomas and Keran as they were named to the second team All Northwestern Ohio Press Team. They also served as football team captains during the '64 season.

Thomas led the Cardinal offense in yards gained, points scored, and in kick-off and punt returns. Denny St. John led the team in pass receptions.

A coach sees many things from the sidelines that the players can't see from their positions on the field. Assistant Coach Kubacki tells Al Alexander about one of them. Al, a junior tackle, is expected to bulwark next year's front line. Other tackle prospects include Jim Reiter, Pat Barry, and Frank Fata.

Denny St. John watches the final seconds of his high school career tick away. For him a dream has become a vivid reality—he has played on his first winning team.

Senior fullback Don Thomas picks up ground as Dave McDaniel pulls out to lead the play.

WHERE THERE'S A WILL

FOUR YEARS OF HARD WORK BUILDS WINNING FOOTBALL TEAM IN 1964

It took four years to build a football team at Stritch. Three of those years were trying because the Cardinals were an inexperienced team and were younger than most of the teams they played. If their losses frustrated them, they took it out of their systems on the field and determined to improve themselves and revenge their defeats. Through constant work they shaped themselves into a working unit.

Although they were greatly improved, the Cardinals were still playing against older teams, because they did not have a senior class as of yet, and the lineup was studded with sophomores. They finished their first varsity season with a 2-6 record. The Cardinals then pledged themselves to the old cliche, "Wait 'til next year."

The first indication of what to expect came on September 11 when the Cardinals traveled to Sylvania and defeated the Wildcats by a score of 22-16. The following week the Cardinals tied Tiffin Calvert 12-12. Although they lost their first game to Fremont St. Joe, 8-6, they came roaring back the following week to smear Lake 27-0. The Cardinals won their fifth game by clobbering Monroe Jefferson 41-0.

Sandusky St. Mary's defeated a somewhat over-anxious Stritch team that was looking forward to the game of the following week with St. Francis. The Cardinals lost 24-7 to St. Mary's but still maintained the fighting spirit for the coming contest.

On November 13 the Cardinals met head on with the Knights of St. Francis. School spirit was at a fever pitch as the teams took the field. For four quarters the teams battled without score. With thirty-nine seconds remaining, the Knights connected with a pass and scored a touchdown. They then added a two-point conversion. With the remaining time the Cards were unable to stage a drive. The final score: 8-0.

THERE'S A CARDINAL

Speedy halfback, John Moran, roars around end leaving Bowsher defenders behind.

Senior flanker back, John Mutchler, anxiously voices his encouragement to defensive teammates as he huddles against foul weather during the Cardinal Stritch-Bowsher contest.

Opposite page: Coach Vieth shouts directions as offensive starters John Caputo, Denny St. John, Dave McDaniel watch.

Frustration projects in many ways—in business, a lost contract; in music, a sour note; in football, a dropped pass.

MR. ROMSTADT HEADS FIRST STRITCH WRESTLING TEAM

In 1962, Mr. William Romstadt became the first varsity wrestling coach at Stritch. Although the title of varsity coach was his, he had to wait one year to field a varsity team, due to the lack of upperclassmen.

The following year, the grapplers were able to compete, and racked up a season record of 8 wins against 4 defeats.

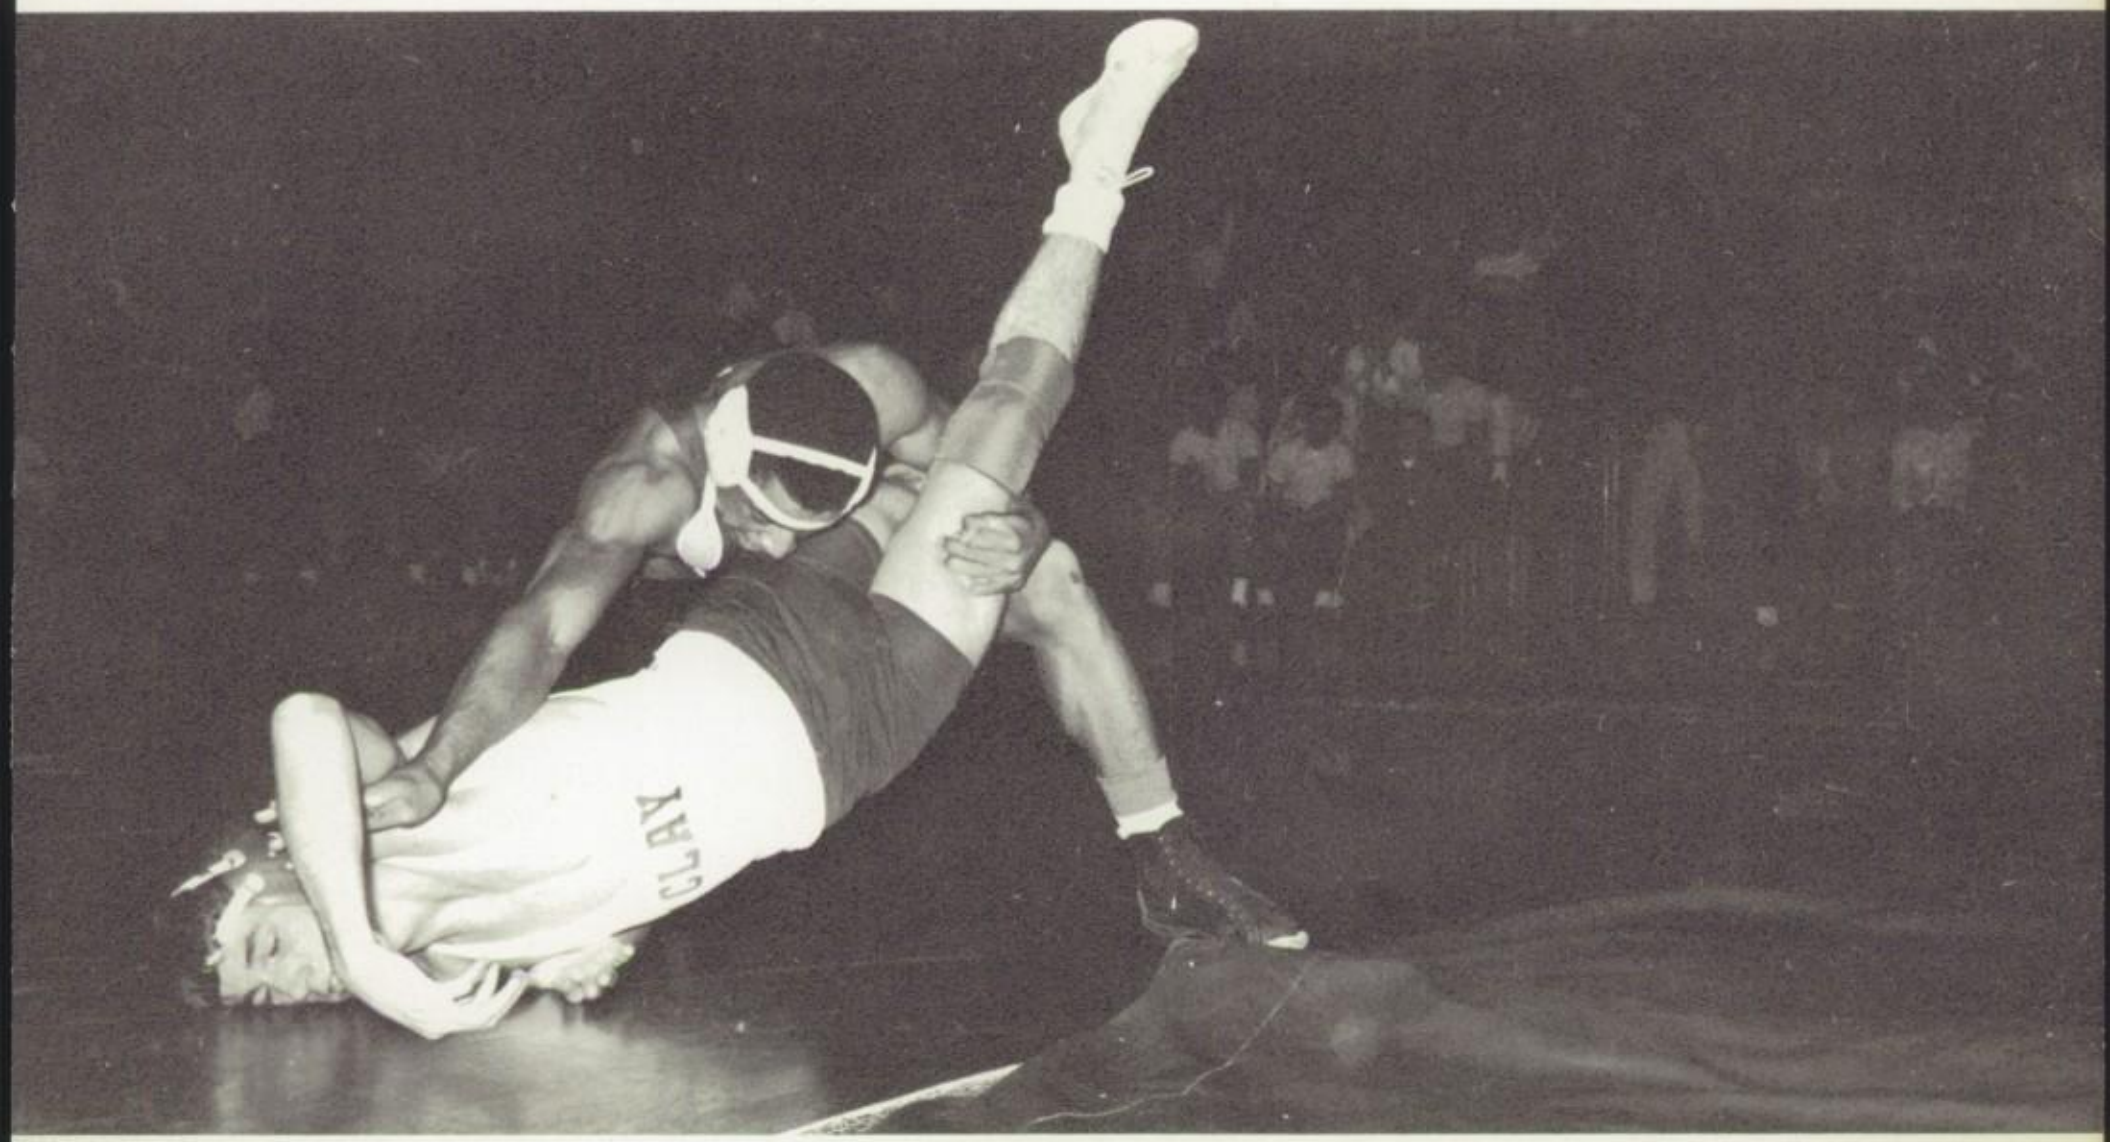
11 WINS AGAINST 2 LOSSES



At 128, John Moran is one of Stritch's toughest contenders.

MR. REILLY NAMED COACH OF '65 WRESTLING TEAM

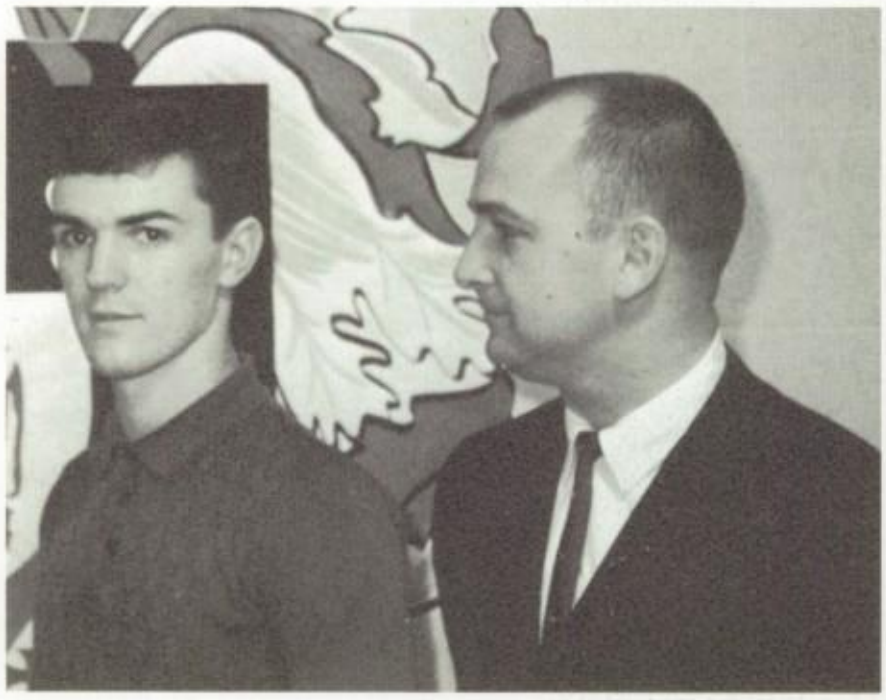
Mr. Patrick Reilly became varsity wrestling coach in 1964 when Mr. Romstadt left for another coaching job. Mr. Reilly is a graduate of Central High School and an alumnus of the University of Toledo. While at Central, Mr. Reilly competed in the State Wrestling finals and placed third.

In college, he lost only one match in three years of varsity competition. His junior and senior years, Mr. Reilly was MAC champion. He also placed second in the NCAA Tournament.

Under his direction, the Cardinal grapplers posted a 11–2 season record.

Mr. Reilly also assists in football and conducts a weight lifting program for all athletes.

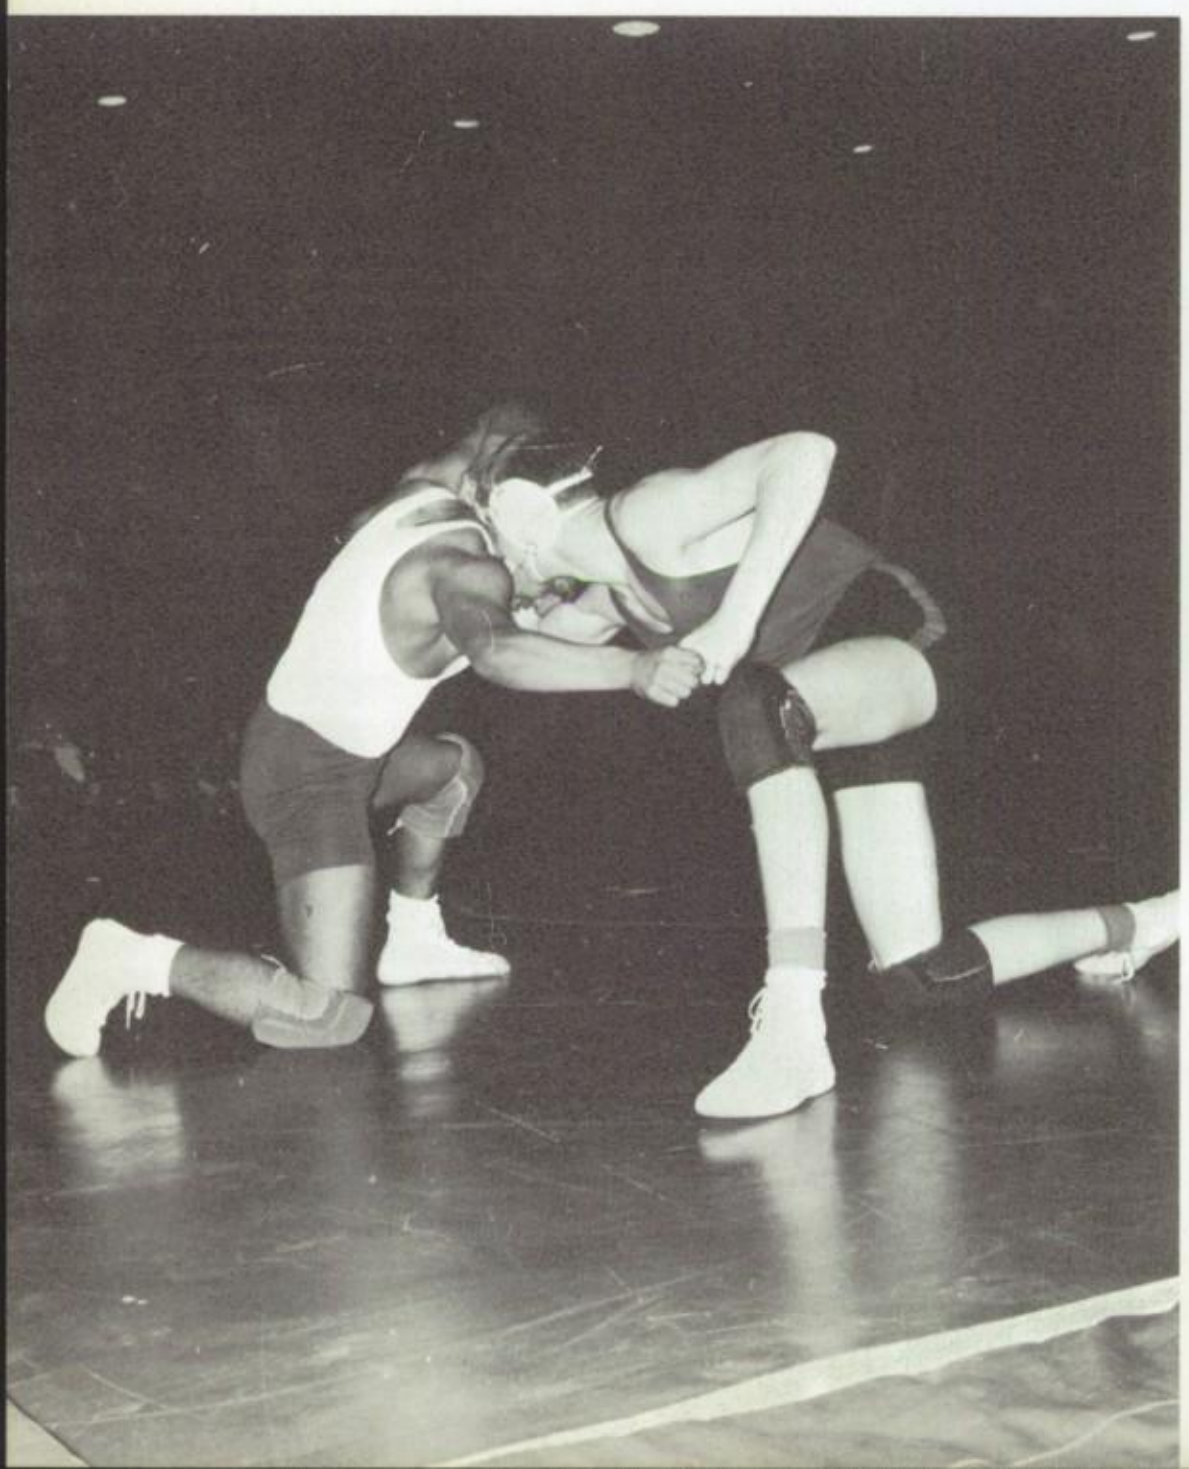
RAY MORELLI, MIKE SHEEHY ADVANCE TO STATE MATCHES

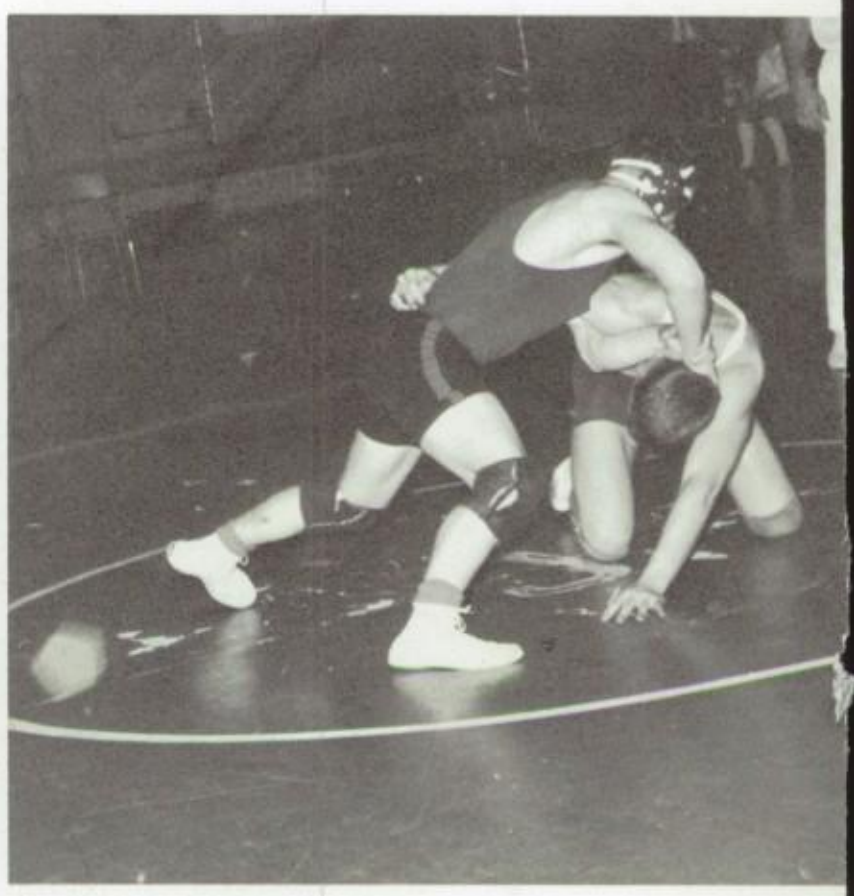


Ray Morelli won the District Title at 133, in 1964. Ray, then a junior, compiled a season record of 8–2–2. At Columbus, Ray was defeated by the defending state champion, but did well in the consolation matches.

In 1965 Mike Sheehy became the second Cardinal to win a district title. Mike's season record stands at 12–1. Mike won his first two matches in the state finals, lost the next day, but advanced in the consolation.

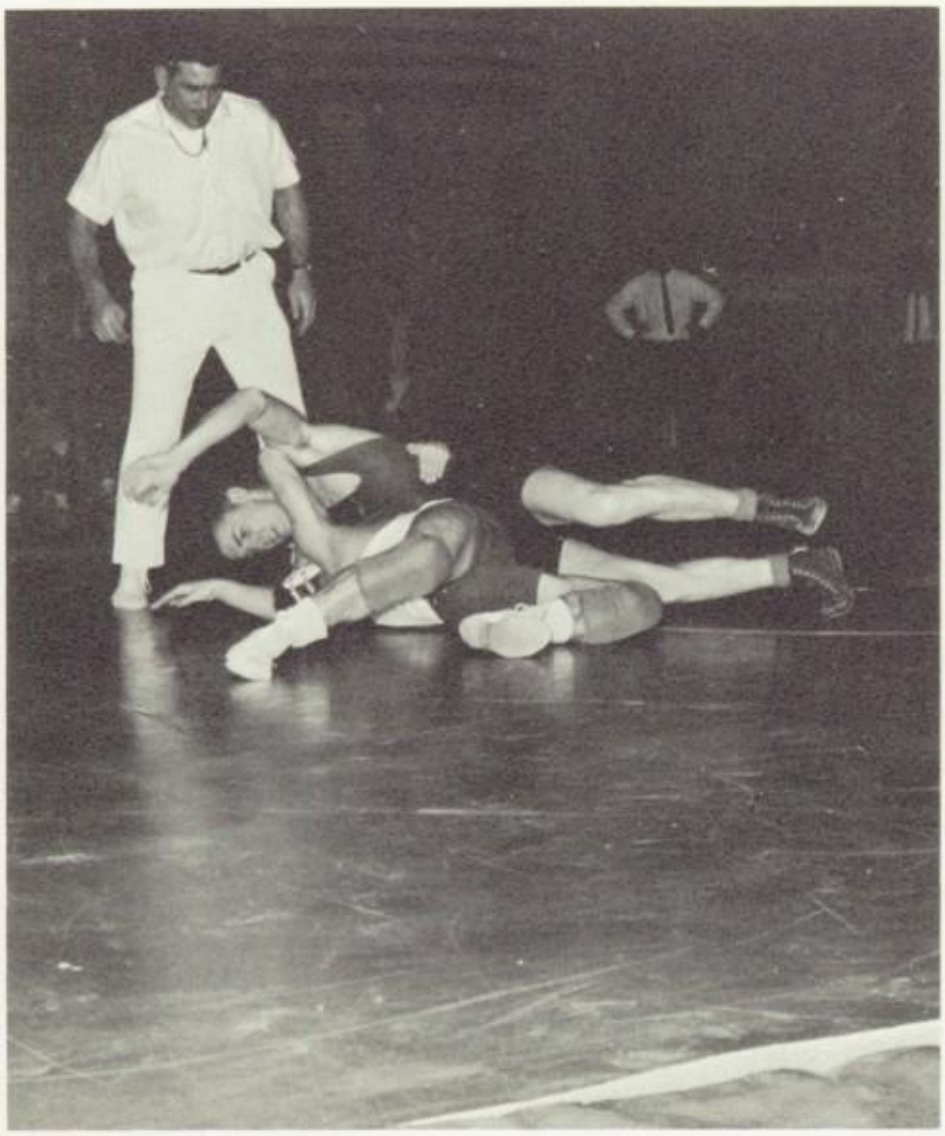
Senior Bob Reinbolt finished the regular season with an 11–1 record.





John Hamilton maneuvers opponent for a reversal.

In two seasons of varsity competition, the Cardinal grapplers have lost only 6 matches out of 24. This gives the Cards a percentage of .750. If the present record is any indication of what to come, Stritch should be one of the top teams in the state very soon. In two years, Stritch has had two District Champions, and both have been juniors.



Ray Morelli tries for a reverse. Ray won the match 9–7, over Sternberg.

These are the people who made Existence '65. Their advice, their encouragement, and their financial assistance helped a grateful staff through a long year of putting the book together for the first time. Thank you so much.

A SPECIAL ACKNOWLEDGMENT

The Existence staff wants to extend special appreciation to Mr. James Kwiatkowski, yearbook advisor, for a year of limitless work. When the rest of us were too tired to think of ideas, too busy to spend one more hour after school, or ready to throw it all away and forget it, Mr. K. was always the first to start over and the last to give in. He gave us every minute of his time. He listened with patience and encouraged our ideas. So many nights he stayed to help us instead of going home to relax and he ate supper at McDonalds with the rest of us.

The student body knows the importance of his teaching ability and journalistic talent, and now the staff of Existence '65 knows the importance of his friendship. Our special thanks, Mr. K.

THE EDITOR'S EXIT:

Existance '65 began—I guess I wouldn't call it immediate despair. The fact that we had all of 144 pages to fill and discovered that no one on the staff knew how to take a picture didn't kill us—we were saved by the invention of the Polaroid camera and the genius of Mike Swemba's self-taught photography (most of which does not appear in this book.) We were able to stand up to the fact that this first Existence had to cover four years of Stritch activity. Even our lack of experience didn't depress us. It was only when we missed our first deadline by three weeks that I began to wonder if the students might settle for a do-it-yourself yearbook.

Realizing that work on the yearbook couldn't possibly be completed during the class periods alone, Room 117 quickly became our "home away from home" and because there was so little space in which to work, we began to file things in, under, and on top of our spacious desks until they were so cluttered that we had to move our work to the floor. After school when the students had all gone home, we began to spread the layouts out into the hall and worked by the light of the chapel lobby. It was while trying to hit the last deadline that we began to fall apart. Three straight weeks we worked late into the night trying to be sure of the May distribution date, and at the same time scraping together enough last-minute patrons to push us through. I was beginning to worry if Existence '65 would ever really exist—in '65 anyway. But one Saturday night in March, we did finish the very last layout. We thanked "everybody up there" who surely kept us going, cleaned off our cluttered desks, took down the crazy pictures from the bulletin board that had served as our morale lifter, shook hands with Mr. K., and went home—and it was then I realized how much I would miss working with a staff that knew how to laugh their way through the worst of days. Even the week-ends we had spent working on the book all seemed worthwhile now, and I only hope that when you and your children page through this dusty copy of Existence '65 it will mean as much to you as it does to your first Existence staff.

Sincerely,
Linda Stearns, Editor

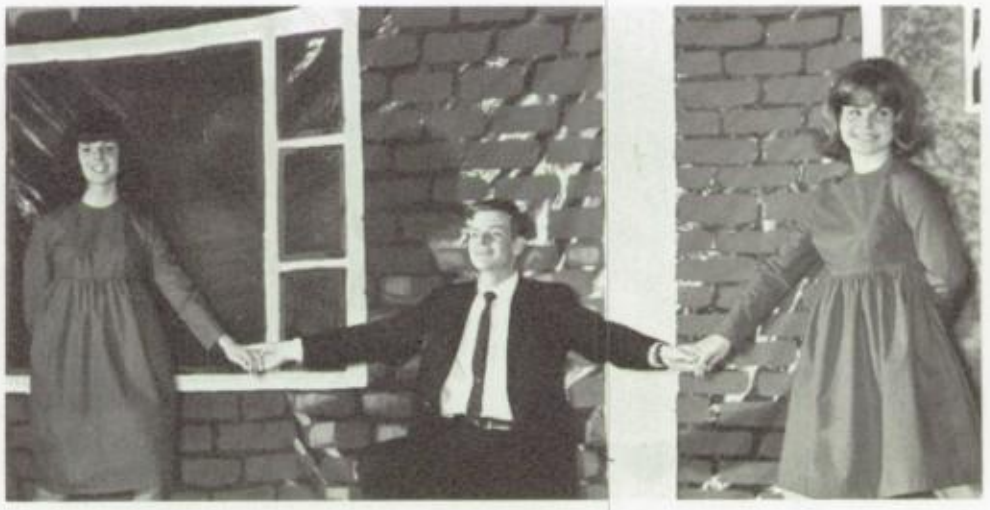
Rosie, Albert plot campaign for "One Last Kiss" to be given Kim McAfee.

Sweet Apple teens gossip about Hugo's pinning Kim.

Conrad Birdie leaves New York for Sweet Apple, Ohio.

Sad about Birdie's military career, fans are told to be happy by Albert.



Kim leads Birdie pledge on his arrival in Sweet Apple.

Hugo senses trouble with Kim but is told that he is only boy for her.

Mayor presents Birdie key to the city in Sweet Apple Square.

Fans faint away as Conrad wiggles through "Honestly Sincere."

Albert's momma arrives with "friends" to complicate matters.

Conrad shows his not-too-virtuous habits as guest of McAfees.

Trouble if offset by offering McAfees spot on Sullivan show.

"Bye Bye Birdie," a satire on rock 'n roll on the late '50's, tells the story of a rock 'n roll singer about to be drafted. The singer, Conrad Birdie, an Elvis Presley type, has thick side burns, wears gaudy gold costumes, and speaks ruggedly.

Albert Peterson, his agent, is a pleasant mild mannered type. It is his faithful secretary, Rose Grant, that keeps him and Birdie moving up in the world. Rosie concocts one final national publicity plan before Conrad's induction. He will bid a typical American teenage girl goodbye with an all-American kiss.

Kim MacAfee in Sweet Apple, Ohio, wins the honor. The arrival of Birdie in Sweet Apple causes wholesale swoonings by both the young and old. The MacAfee household is completely upset by the visiting dignitary. It is decided that Birdie will give his "one last" on the Ed Sullivan show.

Miss Mary Ann Sadler, director of dramatics, and Mr. Gerard Lonsway, music director, saw to it that approximately one-third of the student body participated.

After Hugo knocks out Conrad in effort to keep Kim, Conrad and teens announce they have "a lot of livin' to do," while parents wonder what's wrong with kids today. Rosie, fed up with Albert and momma, decides to live it up as Spanish Rose at Maud's.

While Rosie cavorts, Hugo tries to drown his own troubles in milk. Meanwhile, Albert solves conflict by getting rid of two problems, Conrad and momma. Result: Rossie gets Albert, Hugo gets Kim, the army gets Conrad Birdie, and momma "gets lost."

Senior Class Honors Eleven As "Best," "Most Likely"

Senior recognition day, sponsored by underclassmen in honor of the first graduating class was arranged to include a "goodbye" assembly of the entire student body at which the names of the pictured winners were announced.

Voting for the various titles took place in the senior home rooms previous to the program by the students who were their classmates for four years. Ballots included "Best Dancers," "Most Likely to Succeed," "Wittiest," "Best Dressed," and "Friendliest." The students receiving the most votes won the honors and received tags bearing the titles for which they were named.

Friendliest: Hank Zieman, Linda Stearns, and Mike Swemba.

First Senior Class Graduated; 195 Receive Diplomas June 8

It was a teary-eyed class of '65 that entered their high school gym for the last time to receive the diplomas they had spent four learning years to achieve. Strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" filled the hall as the students proceeded to the stage dressed in the commencement robes of red and black, the colors they themselves had chosen four years before to represent the school they had been so instrumental in building.

The graduates began the ceremony by reciting the Lord's Prayer and the Pledge of Allegiance. Student speakers Suzanna Gladieux and David Christie, previously chosen to represent the seniors, addressed the audience of hundreds with tones of appreciation and challenge.

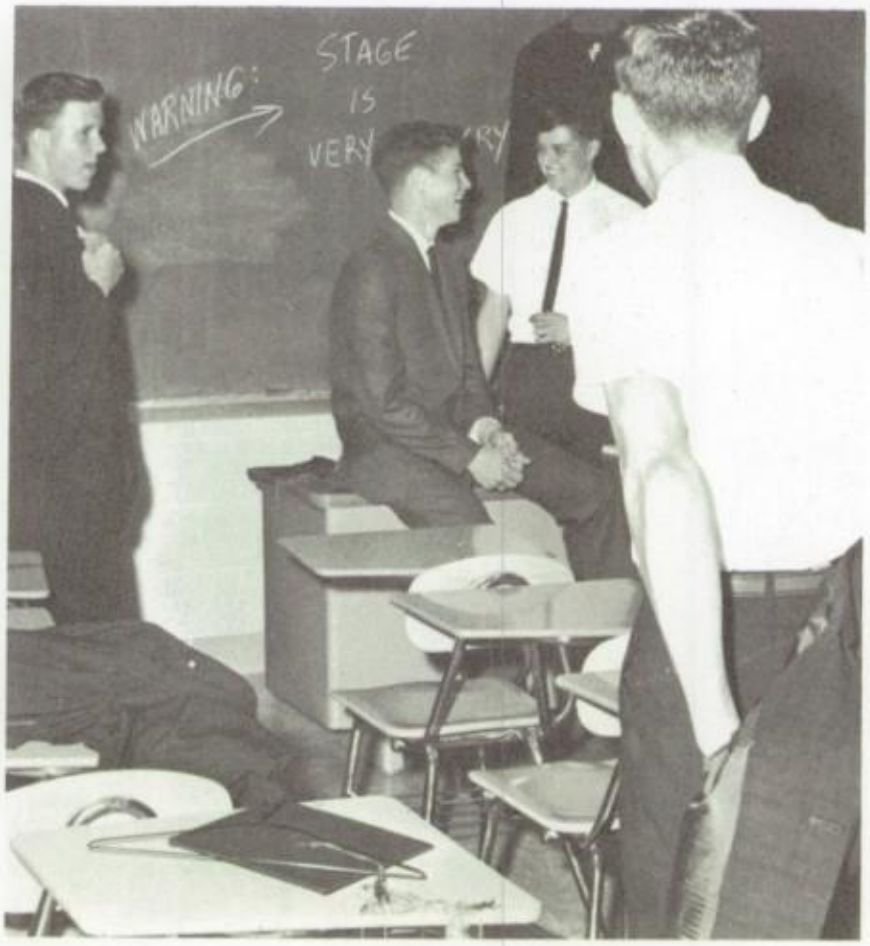
The combination band and chorus added to the significance of the night withh a selection of appropriate songs directed to the graduates including "You'll Never Walk Alone " The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "The Lord Bless You."

The man who conceived the idea of Cardinal Stritch High School, the man who took over plans, broke the ground, and dedicated the building was present, His Excellency The Most Reverend Bishop George J. Rehring. He addressed the students expressing his happiness at their achievements and wishing them a future of happiness in God's blessing. The Very Reverend Michael J. Walz principal, presented the graduates to Bishop Rehring who then proceeded to the conferring of diplomas and awards after which the college scholarships were announced.

The ceremony ended and "Procession of the Nobles" played as the graduates marched from the stage, walking away from many happy memories, leaving behind their closest friends together as a class for the last time.

Seniors, arriving at school about one hour before ceremonies began, took advantage of free time for last-minute discussion.

Graduates used classrooms to change into caps and gowns. Reaction to appearance in graduation garb was often very humorous.



After processional and national anthem, graduating seniors recited The Lord's Prayer and The Pledge of Allegiance in unison. ▼

Clay Tops 1965 Schedule

Bob Molnar threw a no-hitter against arch rival Clay, defeating the Eagles by a 5-0 score. Bob worked his way to ace of the mound staff and stayed there all season, pulling down most Stritch victories.

Heavy hitters for Stritch in '65 were Jim Sheehy, Bob Critch, Jim Graver, Denny Szollosi, and Fred Ivan. Fred did the catching for the Cards all season, and will return next season.

Mr. James Kubacki coached the Stritch Cards.

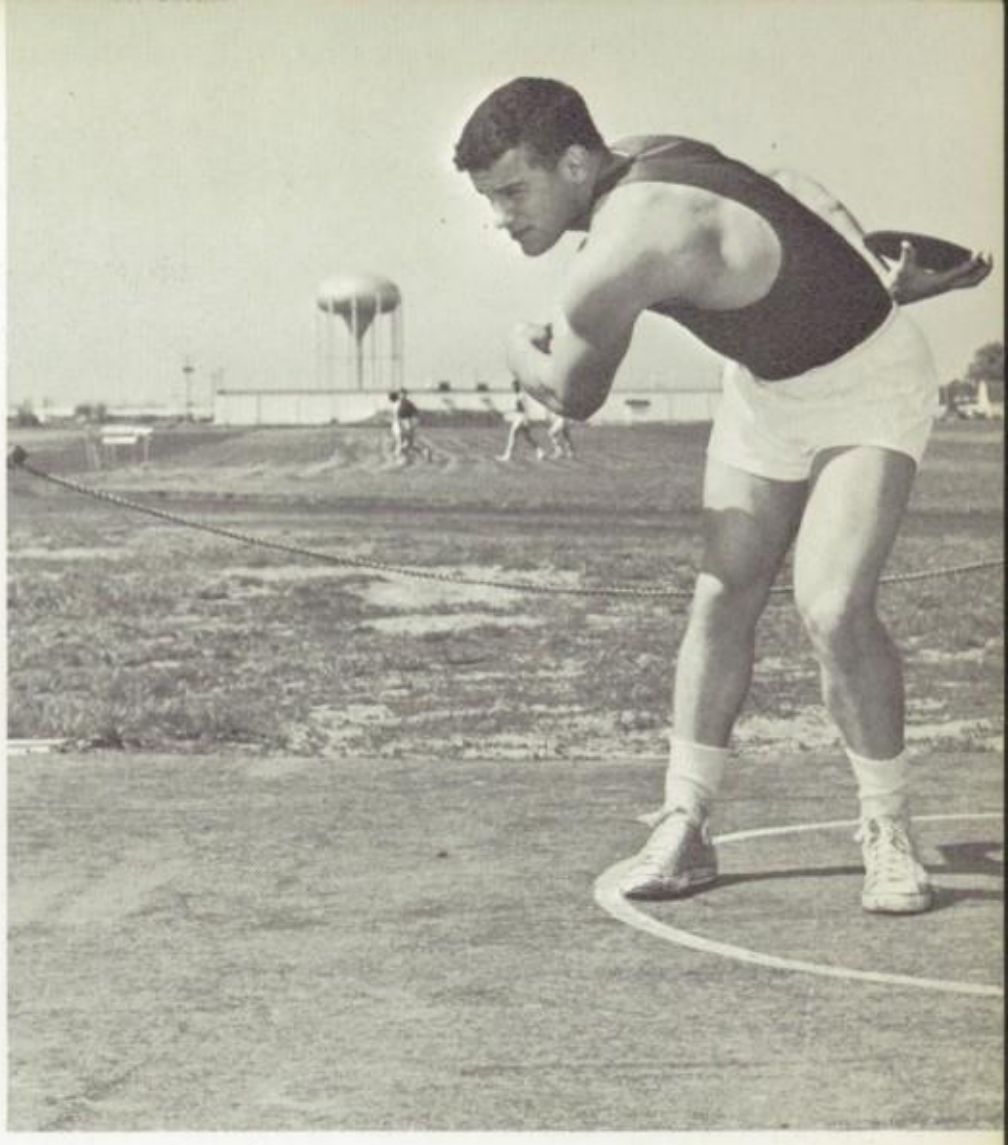
Third Season

Distance runners John Nikoncyk, John Polakovic, and Mike Swemba.



Steve Alexander placed second in district discus competition.

Moran Named MVP; DeStazio Gains Most Points

Over a three-year period, track has grown into a major sport at Stritch. Unlike many record books, the one at Stritch is not dominated by two or three boys.

An abundant amount of talent has resulted in records in every event being held by a different participant.

Leading the sprinters is Bob Grems with a 10.0 time in the 100 yard dash.

John DeStazio and Bill Hochanadel were the strong hurdlers. John took honors in the highs, while Bill clipped fast time in the lows.

Steve Alexander and Denny Keran hold records in the discus and shop-put respectively.

Don Thomas set sail on a 20′ 9 1/2″ flight on the broad jump.

Among the record holders for distance runs are Mike Swemba, John Schuchert, and John Nikoncyk.

Bill Gladieux set the school record for the high jump by clearing 5′8″ in 1965.

Mr. Martin Vieth has been track coach for three years.

Existence '65 Distributed On Special Yearbook Day

Stritch's first Existence didn't have to be sneakily sent up the aisle during English class or get yanked about in between-the-bell shuffles. The book, special as it is, had a unique welcome upon its arrival as it was distributed to an eager student body who then spend hours in the gym obtaining signatures of friends
